

Questura of Perugia

Mobile Squad

General Affairs Sector

Subject: Summary of information provided by a person informed of the facts:

Bonassi, Stefano Dario, personal details recorded previously.

On November 4th, 2007, at 17:35, at the Offices of the Mobile Squad of the Questura of Perugia, before Deputy Prosecutor Dr. Giuliano Mignini of the Public Prosecutor's office of the Republic at the Tribunal of Perugia, assisted by the officials of the Prosecutor-General's office: Assistant Deputy Chief Giobbi, Edgardo; Assistant Deputy Chief Profazio, Domenico Giacinto; Deputy Commissioner Monica Napoleoni; Chief Inspector Antonio Facchini; Deputy Superintendent Moscatelli, Daniele, the person named in the subject section is present, who, being heard on the facts under investigation, declares as follows:

Responds to the question (A): I present myself spontaneously to make declarations useful for your investigation.

A: On Saturday, October 20th, last month, I went to dance to the "red zone" at Casa Del Diavolo; we took a table in the name of the owner of caffè Morlacchi called Mafalda. On that occasion, I was with my girlfriend and Giacomo was with Meredith. A little after sitting down I argued over some trifle with a young guy at the next table, whose name I do not remember.

A: The people who frequented our house was [sic] Peppe, a fellow student at the same department as Marco. Peppe, who must be from the south, very sturdy, about 186 centimeters tall. This person often visited our place. Also, another young man visited our place, nicknamed "the baron," shorter than myself, whose name I do not remember, of South African origin.

A: One evening, I found the latter person at my place as soon as I came back; he was with my friends. That time, the fellow was really drunk and actually fell asleep on the toilet bowl.

A: That young man was physically attracted to Amanda.

A: Peppe certainly knew Meredith but I'm not sure if the South African guy did.

A: Another young man who came to our place once is a tall, lean young man wearing tennis shoes and baggy pants, nicknamed Body Roga.

A: The tennis shoes often worn by the young man are large, of a large size; I don't know the brand.

A: I believe that on Wednesday, 31st last month, Meredith entered our apartment because she had to feed the cats and water the plants. In fact, on the same day a message arrived to Giacomo sent by Meredith, who asked if the plants had to be watered as usual (normally).

A: On Wednesday, 31st last month, in the evening I was in the area of Porto San Giorgio at a birthday party. Marco Marzan, Marco Niccolin, Maurizio Sbrolla, and Giacomo Silenzi were also there.

A: In the morning of Thursday, November 1st last month [sic; should be “this month”] I got up at about nine; my mother and sister were at home. A little after breakfast, taken at the Lampara bar, I went to a massage parlor with my sister. Later, around 11:00, I went to the hospital to see a urologist.

A: In the afternoon, I took a ride in my friend Giacomo Ascani’s car; after some driving around, I returned home and later went to have dinner at my father’s place. I point out that I reported the various car rides I took on that day at the previous interrogations.

A: Around nine-thirty, I went to my friend Niccolini’s place. At that moment I was about to enter the residence, I met Marco Niccolini and Giacomo Ascani outside the door, who were about to go and get another pizza.

A: A couple of times three friends from Rome came to our place, one of them called Daniel De Luna. This person, the second time he visited, had sexual intercourse with Amanda.

A: I do not recall any non-EU (literally “outside-the-community”) young man ever entering our residence.

A: On Tuesday, October 23rd, Maurizio Sbrolla came to our place. Giacomo and Riccardo were at home then. Maurizio, whom I have known for a long time, is 180 centimeters tall with a slender frame.

A: In the afternoon of October 26th, Friday, Marco Niccolini joined us at home. He stayed at our place until Sunday, then left to go back to Porto San Giorgio, together with Marco and Maurizio Sbrolla, who had already been staying with us.

A: Marco Niccolini (phone number 3333444771), 190 centimeters tall, of slim build, has only come to our residence once in the current year, on Wednesday, October 26th, on the occasion of Giacomo’s birthday. That evening, Meredith was not present as she left, perhaps the same morning, for London.

A: I don’t remember exactly the South African guy’s tennis shoes however the shoes were likely of size 43; they were not common (normal).

Attached is a drawing by Bonassi of the shoes in question. [On page 3.]

A: I have nothing more to add.

Read, confirmed and signed.